

Molly Murray, a graduate of Draughn High School, was awarded the Waldensian Presbyterian Women Scholarship to aid in her future education at the University of North Carolina at Asheville. Molly aspires to obtain an undergraduate's degree in psychology with a minor in health and wellness. In the future, she hopes to acquire her doctorate in sports psychology and work with athletes.

