

Tony Grady, a graduate of Draughn High School, was awarded the Faye T. Russell Scholarship to aid in his future education at Appalachian State University. Tony desires to become a petroleum engineer with the intent of learning how to protect our environment from the process of drilling oil. He hopes to play a part in a reduction of oil imports and resource utilization in our country.